THE PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT OF 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13) STATEMENT OF PUBLIC BURDEN: The purpose of this information collection is to allow ORR to assess a potential sponsor's ability to care for the mental, physical, and financial well-being of a UAC. Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 10 to 11 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and reviewing the collection of information. Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Can I sponsor a child if I am illegally present in the United States?

A: If you are illegally present in the United States, you may be eligible to sponsor a minor, pending assessment of your overall fitness to serve as a sponsor. It is important to remember, however, that service as a sponsor in no way confers any legal status or benefit upon you or any illegally present member of your family, and that you can still be removed from the United States at any time.

Q: Is there a cost to sponsor a child?

A: There is no fee to complete the Sponsor Verification Application. However, you will be responsible for costs associated with the child's travel and escort upon release and you will also be required to demonstrate adequate financial and other resources to cover any and all costs necessary for appropriate care of a child. Your inability to demonstrate that you have adequate financial and other resources to care for a child (or, where applicable, more than one child) will be a factor in potential placement in consideration of other factors. For non-parents, ORR may require further evidence of your ability to financially support a child.

Q: Do I need an attorney to sponsor a child?

A: You do not need an attorney to complete this application or to sponsor a child, although you do have the ability to obtain an attorney to assist you with the application and/or the sponsorship process.

Q: Why do I have to submit my fingerprints?

A: The Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) requires background checks, which may necessitate the taking of potential sponsors' fingerprints in order to verify the potential sponsors' identities and assure child health and safety. Your Case Manager will assist you to schedule an appointment to have your fingerprints taken. Please contact your Case Manager for additional information about the fingerprint collection process.

Q: What information do I have to provide?

A: You must complete the entire Sponsor Verification Application and provide all requested supporting documentation in order to be considered to be a sponsor. You must also answer any and all questions truthfully, including follow-up questions, from your Case Manager. Your inability to complete any part of the Sponsor Verification Application, or provide any of the requested supporting documentation, may result in a denial of your application.

Q: When do I need to give these documents to my Case Manager?

A: You will need to submit all required information, including documentation, no later than 45 calendar days after a request by your Case Manager. After 60 days have passed, failure to provide information within the allotted time frame may result in a denial of your application. The sooner you submit all required documentation and information, the sooner ORR can make a decision on whether to release the child to your care. ORR will inform you promptly of its decision, or will request additional information as needed.

Q: Am I required to submit a DNA test to prove that I'm biologically related to the child?

A: Generally, sponsors may voluntarily submit to a DNA test to prove they are biologically related to the child in support of this application. DNA results can be used to prove a biological relationship exists in lieu of supporting paperwork (such as birth certificates) or where such paperwork is difficult or impossible to obtain and/or authenticate in a timely manner. ORR will pay for the cost of the DNA test. In some instances where ORR has serious concerns about fraud regarding the biological relationship of the child and the proposed sponsor or other individual in the sponsor's household, the agency may require an ORR-paid DNA test, before making a release decision.
